Bio:
Jeanne Marie is a member of CBRE Affordable Housing where she originates loans for multifamily affordable housing for Fannie Mae and Freddie Mac, focusing on bridge, re-syndication and permanent loans. An affordable housing advocate with over a decade of experience, Jeanne Marie started her career as an asset manager for a non-profit developer in California and also worked in construction lending and portfolio management for US Bank. She is actively involved in Commercial Real Estate Women (including on the 2020-21 board of directors for Commercial Real Estate Women Seattle), an inaugural member of the national Commercial Real Estate Women Affordable Housing Council, and Immediate Past President of Environmental Works, a non-profit community design and architecture firm in Seattle, WA. She specializes in Agency lending, new construction, and non-LIHTC tax-exempt bond transactions including 501(c)3 bonds, essential function bonds, and recycled private activity bonds.
