Speaker Description

McFadden has more than 20 years in commercial real estate with an emphasis on multifamily and affordable housing debt products. She has a depth of knowledge in all aspects of multifamily housing including finance, development, construction and asset management/servicing. Prior to joining LIIF, McFadden was senior advisor, office of multifamily production at U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. She has previously held positions at CBRE Group, PNC, Vitus Group and ARCS Commercial Mortgage. She is currently assistant chair of the Urban Land Institute's Affordable and Workforce Housing Council and held previous board and member positions with Western Mortgagee Advisory Council and the Mortgage Bankers Association.

As the new CLO, McFadden is responsible for the organization's capital deployment across its platform, including LIIF's Revolving Loan Fund, NMTC allocations, federal subsidy programs and debt fund business. Ms. McFadden is also responsible for implementing LIIF's Impact Lending strategy and managing and supporting relationships with borrowers and stakeholders.
